

Edlin Somorin

Writer · Lecturer · Speaker
Founder, Edlin Wayfinder

Identity, Creation & the Art of Becoming

ABOUT EDLIN

Edlin Somorin is a writer, lecturer, speaker and founder of Edlin Wayfinder. Her work brings together philosophy, spirituality and psychology to explore identity and creation: who we are, what calls us and who we become through what we create. She lectures in research methods, entrepreneurship, innovation and creativity, holds an MSc in Psychology, and draws on experience in business, teaching, writing, music, theatre and performance.

MSc Psychology · FHEA · PGCLTHE

CONVERSATION TOPICS

Identity & becoming

Who we are beneath inherited roles and expectations.

Creation as transformation

Discovering ourselves through books, art and business.

Purpose & calling

The ideas that return; the talents looking for expression.

Philosophy, spirituality & psychology

Soul, destiny and the art of becoming.

Courageous self-expression

Giving what is within us a place in the world.

QUESTIONS TO BEGIN WITH

How do we discover who we are through what we create?

How can we distinguish our own direction from inherited expectations?

What might a first step look like when we feel called towards something but do not yet feel ready?

SELECTED WRITING

You Already Have More Than One Speaking Voice.
Here's How to Use Them
Psychreg · Published September 2026

Speak Anyway · Forthcoming book
In development; publication date to be announced.